

Don't blow up your computer!

Formula to show file path in Excel

I just had an excellent question about how to add the file path in an Excel spreadsheet. You may ask why this is important. If a file is shared then or even if it is just your workbook knowing “where’s my stuff?” can be very important. So here is the formula to add in any cell to show where your stuff is.

Then hit Enter and the file path is shown and now part of the spreadsheet in the workbook. I now know where my stuff is.