

Don't blow up your computer!

Of the Week!

Here is a perfect example of phishing and social engineering.

1. Final warning...social engineering to make you afraid and then do something without thinking about it. Just reacting.
2. Look at the address of where the mail is supposedly from. It wants to make you think it is from fdlrez.com...but the address doesn't end in fdlrez.com like all of our addresses do.
3. I hovered over the link, I did not click, and look at the additional information I found.
4. All good things to think about before you click. Good job Natasha.
